Flexible, short-term, transaction-based financing for the modern consumer

According to proprietary Deloitte research, by 2025 about 11% of the eCommerce purchases in Europe will be handled through buy now, pay later (BNPL) services. As greater regulatory requirements are discussed – potentially leveling the playing field for traditional banks – it’s important that issuers rethink their operating model and diversify their product suite to capture their share of this new market.

FirstVision Consumer Buy Now Pay Later Processing from Fiserv offers consumers flexible, short-term, transaction-based financing options using multiple go-to-market models. Our digitally integrated product is designed to help your financial institution meet the growing demand for innovative, alternative financing solutions.

Consumer benefits

Consumer Buy Now Pay Later Processing enables consumers to:

- Split purchases into short-term instalment loans, either at the point of sale or post-purchase
- Manage credit and associated costs with real-time transparency and controls
- Select instalment plans to suit credit needs – plans that run for days, weeks or months
- Decide how to fund – use current accounts, debit cards or have the instalments go back onto a linked credit card balance
- Amend instalment plans post-purchase, using digital, self-service channels

Issuer benefits

Consumer Buy Now Pay Later Processing also offers issuers a variety of attractive features:

- Flexible fee structures, including transaction fees, interest, late fees, snooze fees (to defer upcoming instalments) and reschedule fees (to add additional instalments)
- Option for closed-loop, merchant-linked transaction financing that does not require the use of scheme rails or payment cards
- Option for open-loop transaction financing riding on scheme rails, using digital, virtual and physical payment cards
- Option for post-purchase splitting of transactions or balances among noncredit products such as debit, prepaid cards or deposit accounts
- Option to direct card purchases to transaction-based finance or traditional revolving credit with a single payment card (prior to the purchase being made)

A new consumer spending approach

Our solution is a response to an ongoing evolution in how consumers pay for products and services. Customers are still making transactions, but want to do so in a smarter way, with more control and less intense hits to their finances. Consumer Buy Now Pay Later Processing is built to meet those consumer financing needs, offering helpful and flexible options:

- Proactive recommendations for cash-flow solutions
- Transparency and convenience of financing
- Accessible financing throughout the purchasing process
- Responsible, purchase-based borrowing and budgeting
- Predictable payment scheduling
- Affordable credit options in a tightening credit environment

Evolving consumer spending behavior

Industry research reveals that fundamental changes in consumer behavior, accelerated by the COVID-19 pandemic, have accentuated already rapidly changing consumer financing needs. As a result, it has never been more important to modernize your product suite.

- The 2022 Consumer Global Consumer Payments Study from Accenture revealed that consumers use only 19% available to them on their credit card limits; embedding BNPL, with a potential market size of over USD208 billion, could increase utilisation to 28%
- A survey by AT Kearney found that on average 57% of European consumers have already tried BNPL
- According to research published by Capgemini, over 60% banks in the U.K. now offer BNPL to their customers and, overall, over 50% of banks in Europe offer BNPL
